

Protecting America's Private Forest Landowners

Private forest landowners protect America's natural resources. The Forest Landowners Association protects private forest landowners. Since 1941, FLA has provided its members, who own and operate more than 40 million acres of forestland in 48 states, with education, information, and national grassroots advocacy, which enables them to sustain their forestlands across generations. FLA's outreach on behalf of private forest landowners nationwide enhances their forestland management practices and stewardship, and provides peace of mind that they have an advocate working to bring them richly deserved compensation for their work that safeguards America's forestlands. The Forest Landowners Association serves its membership with:

- FOREST LANDOWNER MAGAZINE

Forest Landowner magazine presents private forest landowners across the country with guidance on forestland management options, applications of current forestry research, and national legislative issues that helps them sustain their forestland ownership.

- POLICY ADVOCACY

Three key components constitute the Forest Landowners Association's (FLA) ongoing federal policy advocacy that protects and enhances the property rights of private forest landowners across the United States: direct lobbying, targeted campaign contributions, and national grassroots mobilization.

- DISCOUNTED INSURANCE PRODUCTS

Available exclusively to members of the Forest Landowners Association (FLA), the Forest Landowners Insurance Program offers quality insurance coverages to landowners, hunting clubs, and consulting foresters. For more information, visit www.forestlandowners.com.

- ONLINE RESOURCES

FLA members have access to online resources that help them sustain their forestland ownership: Forest Landowner magazine archives, CapWiz, Online Products and Services Directory, and Timberland for Sale.

- ANNUAL CONFERENCE

The Forest Landowners Association's Annual Conference provides private forest landowners with direct access to top experts and service and product providers in forestry who furnish the knowledge they require to make informed management decisions that safeguard their forestland investments. The next conference is June 2-4, 2010, at Skamania Lodge in Stevenson, Washington. Check FLA's website (www.forestlandowners.com) for more information.
